

Open Fields

Vers:

I see right through you, your lips are reading a lie.
You know you cannot hide, your eyes are acting shy

 When people say they're ready, are they steady on their own?
And When the morning breaks open something new
-are they steady on their own?

Ref

Open fields in dawn, green hills that I adore
I will survive the flood, don't miss me when I'm gone.

Vers:

You see right through me, my lips are reading a lie.
I thought that I could hide, my eyes are acting shy.

Ref:

When people say they're ready, are they steady on their own?
And When the morning breaks open something new, are they steady on their own?
