

Til' the end

Too many rivers, too many.
Too many rivers have crossed our heart.

The walls have spoken the walls have spoken to us.
And we've been choked we've been choked enough.

Stick
Take this chance to see what's more.
You know -We've got something new to explore.

Ref
Til the end, and til' the end of all the words.
And we've been heading -to reach out and touch.
But I think we both know that we've been digging enough.

Two different planets two different universe.
How funny to see so far away from earth.

Don't push it, don't push it no more
You know we got something new to explore

Stick
It's like we've been heading to get our ship too fast into a mine. I think we both know that we better leave it behind.

Ref
Til' the end, and til' the end of all the words.
We've been heading to be the ones who can reach out and touch.
But I think you should know that we've been digging enough....

Til' the end, and til' the and...
